What ?

'Swaashtya' - in sankhsrit means 'Health'. Health is a result of many internal and external factors, some of which are controllable and some are not.

Most of the diseases are psycho-somatic, which have to be treated in a holistic manner to derive effective results.

Sri M's mission is to render holistic healthcare for optimal results, with utmost compassion.

Why ?

- Sri M's mission is to render Quality Affordable Holistic Healthcare for semi-urban / rural populace
- Saving lives during medical / accident emergencies on the highway and rural areas
- 30 beds shall be designated to render free healthcare services to the economically weaker sections of society

Positioning

- Swaasthya is envisaged to be a 150-bed secondary care affordable holistic healthcare centre
- Swaasthya is the divine Sankalpa of our beloved spiritual master Sri M, aimed at rendering quality healthcare services in suburban Bengaluru
- Our aim is to position Swaasthya as a Centre for Holistic Health and not as a Hospital

Where?

- Swaasthya is envisaged to be developed in Somanahalli, on Kanakapura road, which is about 30 kms south of Bengaluru, Karnataka, India.
- Being situated along the national highway, Swaasthya is accessible to both the highway commuters during emergencies and also the suburban populace.
- Many villages spread across the stretch connecting Bengaluru and Kanakapura can easily access Swaasthya's affordable quality healthcare services.

For Whom ?

- Swaasthya is for everyone.
- Sri M's mission is provide access to quality healthcare to the needy in semi-urban and rural areas.
- Swaasthya has also planned outreach camps in rural areas to help people get treated without having to visit the centre for simple health issues.

Operating Model

- Swaasthya will operate as a not-for-profit hospital, with a cross-subsidy self-sustainable model
- Swaasthya also has an inbuilt philanthropic objective to render 30 beds / services to the needy on a pro bono basis
- 120 beds / services will be rendered through the regular commercial model for sustainability
